CMA EXCELLENCE IN INTEGRATED REPORTING AWARDS 2026

CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards competition is organized annually by the Institute of Certified Management Accountants of Sri Lanka (CMA Sri Lanka) which is the national professional management accounting institute in Sri Lanka incorporated by Act of Parliament No. 23 of 2009. The Institution was initially established as the “Society of Certified Management Accountants of Sri Lanka” in 1999 with the technical assistance of CMA Canada (now CPA Canada) and financial assistance from Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) and, inaugurated on 3rd June 2000.

Currently CMA is a member of the International Federation of Accountants (IFAC), the global organization for professional accounting bodies, South Asian Federation of Accountants (SAFA) and the Confederation of Asian and Pacific Accountants (CAPA).

The purpose of the Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards is to promote Sri Lankan companies both listed and unlisted and state-owned institutions / companies to undertake integrated reporting which will be beneficial to investors and stakeholders. The primary purpose of an integrated report is to explain to providers of financial capital how an organization creates, preserves or erodes value over time. An integrated report benefits all stakeholders interested in an organization’s ability to create value over time, including employees, customers, suppliers, business partners, local communities, legislators, regulators and policy-makers.

The integrated reports are evaluated using guidelines applicable in the International <IR> Framework issued in December 2013 and revised in 2021. The evaluation will take into account not only the accounting and financial information, but also non-financial information provided in <IR>. With the introduction of mandatory sustainability disclosures under SLFRS S1 and S2 for the top 100 companies listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange for financial years commencing on or after 1 January 2025, sustainability reporting enters a new era in Sri Lanka. Aligned with globally recognised sustainability standards, SLFRS S1 and S2 reinforce the principles of integrated reporting, particularly the connectivity between strategy, performance, risks, and long-term value creation. The Sustainability Awards will celebrate organisations that demonstrate leadership and innovation in applying these standards, while navigating available transition reliefs and proportionality mechanisms. Assessments will focus on robust governance, forward-looking strategies, effective risk management, meaningful targets and metrics, and the embedding of sustainable business practices that support resilient and value-driven organisations.

In line with evolving global reporting practices, the Awards have introduced Sustainability Standards S1 and S2 as part of the evaluation criteria. These standards, aligned with international best practices, emphasize the disclosure of sustainability-related financial information (S1) and climate-related risks and opportunities (S2). The inclusion of these standards aims to encourage organizations to enhance transparency, strengthen sustainability governance, and provide more comprehensive insights into how environmental and social factors impact long-term value creation.

The application process for CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards 2026 is now open and the following dates are applicable for integrated reports. The closing date for applications will be as follows.

- Financial year ended 31st December 2025 – 15th Aug 2026
- Financial year ended 31st March 2026 - 15th Aug 2026

The mark plan for judging integrated reports will be based on the Guiding Principles, Content Elements and Fundamental Concepts which appear in the International <IR> Framework issued by the International Integrated Reporting Council (IIRC) now part of IFRS Foundation. And special emphasis is given to the following criteria:

- Strategic focus and future orientation
- Connectivity of information
- Value creation
- Reliability and completeness
- Governance
- Strategy
- Risk Management
- Metrics & Targets (Sustainability and Climate related)
- Climate-Specific
- Connectivity & Financial Integration

Guidelines and application form are enclosed herewith and should be submitted on or before the dates mentioned above.

Financial year ended 31st March 2026 -15th Aug 2026

CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards competition is organized for the 12th consecutive year by the Institute of Certified Management Accountants of Sri Lanka (CMA Sri Lanka), the national professional management accounting institute in Sri Lanka incorporated by Act of Parliament No. 23 of 2009.

MESSAGE FROM
JEAN BOUQUOT
PRESIDENT OF THE INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION OF ACCOUNTANTS (IFAC)

It gives me great pleasure to extend my warmest congratulations to the Institute of Certified Management Accountants of Sri Lanka (CMA Sri Lanka) on the occasion of the 12th CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards.

As a long-standing member of the International Federation of Accountants (IFAC), CMA Sri Lanka has demonstrated continued leadership in advancing the profession and championing initiatives that reflect our shared commitment to the public interest, sustainability, and responsible corporate governance.

Integrated reporting plays an increasingly critical role in today's dynamic global business environment. It provides a comprehensive view of how organizations create value over time. By bridging financial and non-financial information, integrated reporting strengthens accountability, fosters transparency, and promotes long-term thinking and resilience. I commend CMA Sri Lanka for engaging the International Sustainability Standards Board (ISSB) to judge the awards.

I am pleased to note that Sri Lanka has adopted and made mandatory for the first 100 companies listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange two ISSB standards: IFRS S1 (General Requirements) and IFRS S2 (Climate-related Disclosures). These standards are the global baseline for high-quality, investor-focused sustainability-related disclosures.

At IFAC, we believe that professional accountants have a pivotal role to play in embedding sustainability into decision-making and reporting processes. Initiatives such as the CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards are vital in recognizing organizations that lead by example and inspire others to follow.

I commend CMA Sri Lanka for its dedication to promoting best practices in integrated reporting and broader corporate disclosure, and I extend my heartfelt congratulations to all the award winners and participants. Your efforts contribute meaningfully to a more sustainable, transparent, and resilient global economy.

With best regards,

Jean Bouquot
International Federation of Accountants (IFAC)

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT
CMA SRI LANKA

CMA Sri Lanka is proud to announce the 12th Annual CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards – 2026, for which applications are now open, with the Awards Ceremony scheduled to be held in November 2026.

Since the launch of this initiative in 2015, the awards have attracted a growing number of participants from across the corporate spectrum—including listed companies, privately held enterprises, state-owned entities, SMEs, and public sector organizations—demonstrating the increasing recognition, acceptance, and practice of integrated reporting within the business community.

Once again this year, we will celebrate and recognize the voluntary initiatives undertaken by organizations in both the private and public sectors to adopt integrated reporting, integrated thinking, sustainability practices, and value creation for stakeholders over the short, medium, and long term. Reports submitted will be assessed based on the principles outlined in the International <IR> Framework, originally issued in December 2013 and revised in 2021. Evaluation criteria will encompass not only financial and accounting information but also the non-financial disclosures that reflect an organization's broader performance, governance, strategy, and future outlook.

Sustainability reporting will be given due recognition with the introduction of mandatory sustainability disclosures under SLFRS S1 and S2 for the top 100 companies listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange for financial years commencing on or after January 2025.

The 2026 awards will recognize organizations that have effectively adopted sustainability-related reporting practices in line with SLFRS S1 – General Requirements for Disclosure of Sustainability-related Financial Information and SLFRS S2 – Climate-related Disclosures, highlighting the growing importance of sustainability and climate-related reporting in corporate decision-making and stakeholder communication.

We extend our sincere appreciation to the Colombo Stock Exchange (CSE), our Strategic Partner for the CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards. Their continued support has played a significant role in encouraging listed companies to embrace integrated reporting and achieve excellence and recognition through this prestigious competition.

We also wish to acknowledge and thank the Securities and Exchange Commission of Sri Lanka (SEC), the regulatory authority for listed companies, for its leadership and support in advancing integrated reporting and sustainability disclosures. The phased implementation of SLFRS S1 and SLFRS S2 has further strengthened the reporting landscape in Sri Lanka and encouraged organizations to adopt globally accepted sustainability reporting practices. While these requirements present challenges, they also provide opportunities for organizations to enhance transparency, accountability, and long-term value creation.

We are grateful to our eminent panel of local and international judges, chaired by Prof. Ho Yew Kee, Deputy Dean of the Chow Yei Ching School of Graduate Studies and Professor in Practice at the Department of Accountancy, College of Business, City University of Hong Kong, and formerly Professor of Accounting at the National University of Singapore. We also extend our appreciation to the Senior Team Leaders, Deputy Team Leaders, and Evaluation Panel members for their dedication, professionalism, and commitment to maintaining the highest standards in the evaluation process.

Technical and Judges Panel Report of the CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards 2026 will be published for the benefit of participating organizations and other stakeholders. The report highlights examples of best practices, areas for improvement, and insights into how organizations create value for their stakeholders. It serves as an important learning resource and benchmark for organizations seeking to enhance the quality and effectiveness of their integrated reports.

We warmly invite listed companies, private enterprises, state-owned businesses, SMEs, and public sector organizations to adopt integrated reporting and sustainability reporting practices and become part of this transformative journey. By doing so, they contribute to sustainable value creation, enhanced stakeholder trust, and the long-term success of their organizations and the broader economy.

We look forward to receiving your applications and celebrating excellence in integrated reporting at the CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards – 2026.

MESSAGE FROM
SENIOR PROFESSOR HAREENDRA DISSABANDARA
CHAIRMAN - THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION OF SRI LANKA

It is with great pleasure that I extend my congratulations to the Institute of Certified Management Accountants of Sri Lanka (CMA Sri Lanka) on the successful hosting of the 12th consecutive edition of the CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards 2026.

In today's rapidly evolving business environment, organizations are expected not only to deliver financial performance but also to demonstrate how they create sustainable value for stakeholders over the short, medium, and long term. Integrated Reporting has become a vital tool in communicating this broader perspective, providing stakeholders with a comprehensive understanding of an organization's strategy, governance, performance, opportunities, and risks.

The Securities and Exchange Commission of Sri Lanka (SEC) recognizes the critical importance of strengthening corporate reporting practices in line with global developments and investor expectations. High-quality integrated reporting enhances transparency, accountability, and informed decision-making, thereby contributing to stronger and more resilient capital markets.

The global focus on sustainability-related disclosures has intensified with the introduction and implementation of the Standards of International Sustainability Standards Board (ISSB). These standards provide a globally consistent framework for reporting sustainability-related financial information and assist investors in assessing the impact of environmental, social, and governance (ESG) factors on enterprise value.

Recognizing the importance of these developments, the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Sri Lanka (CA Sri Lanka) adopted the IFRS Sustainability Disclosure Standards, namely IFRS S1 and IFRS S2, through the issuance of Sri Lanka Sustainability Disclosure Standards (SLFRS S1 and SLFRS S2). These standards have been introduced through a phased implementation process, commencing with the top listed entities in Sri Lanka, to enhance the quality and consistency of sustainability reporting across the corporate sector.

In support of this national initiative, the SEC approved the necessary amendments to the Listing Rules of the Colombo Stock Exchange, requiring applicable listed entities to prepare and publish sustainability-related disclosures in accordance with the Sri Lanka Sustainability Disclosure Standards.

In recognition of the growing significance of sustainability reporting, I am pleased to note that the CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards 2026 has further strengthened its evaluation framework by incorporating enhanced assessment criteria and weightage for sustainability-related disclosures. This timely initiative encourages organizations to demonstrate how sustainability considerations are embedded within their strategies, operations, governance structures, and long-term value creation processes.

We commend CMA Sri Lanka for its continued leadership in promoting excellence in corporate reporting through this nationally significant awards programme. By recognizing organizations that embrace integrated thinking and transparent disclosure practices, CMA Sri Lanka is making a valuable contribution towards improving corporate governance, enhancing investor confidence, and fostering sustainable economic development.

I encourage all listed companies and other eligible organizations to participate in the CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards 2026. Organizations that effectively integrate financial and sustainability information into their reporting practices not only demonstrate accountability and transparency but also showcase their commitment to creating long-term value for stakeholders and society.

I wish CMA Sri Lanka every success in conducting this prestigious awards programme and extend my best wishes to all participating organizations.

Senior Professor Hareendra Dissabandara
Chairman - The Securities and Exchange
Commission of Sri Lanka

MESSAGE FROM
DIMUTHU ABEYESEKERA
CHAIRMAN – COLOMBO STOCK EXCHANGE

It gives me great pleasure to reaffirm the Colombo Stock Exchange's (CSE) support as the Strategic Partner of the CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards – 2026.

Over the course of the past quarter century, the Institute of Certified Management Accountants of Sri Lanka (CMA Sri Lanka) has played a significant role in advancing the principles of integrated reporting in the country. Through this initiative, organizations are encouraged to embrace greater transparency, accountability, and long-term value creation, contributing to the continued development of Sri Lanka's corporate sector and capital markets.

As businesses navigate an increasingly dynamic and interconnected environment, integrated reporting has become an essential tool for communicating how organizations create value over time. It enables companies to demonstrate the link between strategy, governance, performance, and sustainability, while providing stakeholders with a more comprehensive understanding of business resilience and future prospects.

The growing emphasis on sustainability, climate-related disclosures, and ESG considerations has further reinforced the importance of integrated thinking. Organizations that adopt these practices are better positioned to meet evolving stakeholder expectations, strengthen investor confidence, and support Sri Lanka's transition to a green economy.

The CSE remains committed to promoting high standards of corporate reporting and governance among listed entities. Our continued partnership with organizations such as CMA Sri Lanka reflects a shared vision of fostering transparency, enhancing market integrity, and encouraging companies to embrace globally recognized reporting practices.

On behalf of the CSE I extend our sincere congratulations to all participating organizations and commend their commitment to excellence in corporate reporting and wish them every success and look forward to another successful and impactful edition of the CMA Excellence in Integrated Reporting Awards 2026.

Mr. Dimuthu Abeyesekera
Chairman – Colombo Stock Exchange

APPROACH

Integrated reporting is undertaken by many companies and state organizations in Sri Lanka and there are no legislative or other requirements for organizations to prepare integrated reports. Therefore, organizations include the principles of integrated reporting in their annual reports on a voluntary basis.

The annual reports currently produced by organizations will be reviewed for the purposes of the Award.

The International <IR> Framework will be used as the basis for the mark plan. The <IR> Framework was published in December 2013 and revised in 2021, now part of IFRS Foundation and therefore, would have been available to organizations.

The panel of judges will review the reports from the perspective of how the fundamental concepts and guiding principles are met. Furthermore, integrated reporting will differ from organization to organization depending upon the industry and the material issues faced by the entity. History shows that implementation of integrated reporting is a journey and that it takes organizations some years to be able to produce high quality reports.

QUALIFYING REPORT

a.) All quoted companies coming under the classification of Colombo Stock Exchange, Private Companies, State Owned Enterprises / Companies, Banks, Government sector institutions, Small & Medium Enterprises, NPOs, etc, are eligible to apply for the competition. (Please refer page no. 02 for sectors).

b.) (b) The reporting years applicable for the competition are as follows.

- Financial year ended 31st December 2025 – 15th Aug 2026
- Financial year ended 31st March 2026 -15th Aug 2026

MARKING PROCESS

The marking process will be done in two steps as follows.

- Short listing by the Technical Evaluation Panel.
- Final judging by the Panel of Judges.

TECHNICAL EVALUATION PANEL

All the reports submitted will be marked by a panel of Technical Evaluators to assess whether or not the companies are addressing the principles of integrated reporting as per the marking checklist which is based on the Integrated Reporting Framework issued by the IIRC in 2013 and revised in 2021 and now a part of IFRS Foundation. The Awards have introduced Sustainability Standards S1 and S2 as part of the evaluation criteria. Out of them top 20 companies will be shortlisted and submitted to the Panel of Judges for review and final verdict.

The panel of judges will comprise of both local and foreign experts in integrated reporting.

Panel of Judges will be responsible for the selection of 10 Best Integrated Reports and 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners, sector awards and special awards. The decision of the panel of judges will be final and binding on all applicants.

- Kindly ensure that proof of payment is submitted along with the application by emailing the relevant document to irsecretariat@cma-srilanka.org
    - Financial year ended 31st December 2025 – 15th Aug 2026
    - Financial year ended 31st March 2026 -15th Aug 2026

MARK PLAN

The mark plan will be based on the guiding principles, content elements and fundamental concepts that appear in the International <IR> Framework.

In assessing reports, the judges will apply considerable judgement and discretion taking into account the newness of the process and the variable conditions under which organizations operate. The reports will be initially evaluated by a technical evaluation panel and they will select 20 reports for final judging by the panel of judges.

THE INTEGRATED REPORT

GUIDING PRICIPLES

The following Guiding Principles underpin the preparation of an integrated report, informing the content of the report and how information is presented:

- Strategic focus and future orientation:
  An integrated report should provide insight into the organization's strategy, and how it relates to the organization's ability to create value in the short, medium, and long-term, and to its use of and effects on the capitals.

- Connectivity of information:
  An integrated report should show a holistic picture of the combination, interrelatedness and dependencies between the actors that affect the organization's ability to create value over time

- Stakeholder relationships:
  An integrated report should provide insight into the nature and quality of the organization's relationships with its key stakeholders, including how and to what extent the organization understands, takes into account and responds to their legitimate needs and interests.

- Materiality:
  An integrated report should disclose information about matters that substantively affect the organization's ability to create value over the short, medium and long term.

- Conciseness:
  An integrated report should be concise.

- Reliability and completeness:
  An integrated report should include all material matters, both positive and negative, in a balanced way and without material error.

- Consistency and comparability:
  The information in an integrated report should be presented:(a) on a basis that is consistent over time; and (b) in a way that enables comparison with other organizations to the extent it is material to the organization's own ability to create value over time.

- SLFRS S1 & S2:
  Sustainability awards honor organizations that excel in environmental and social responsibility. These recognitions focus on achievements in areas such as sustainability governance, risk management, strategic planning, and the fulfillment of key targets and metrics, alongside the adoption of sustainable business practices. Earning a sustainability award brings international recognition and highlights a company's leadership in advancing sustainability objectives.

For more details, please refer to IFRS Foundation Integrated Reporting:
https://www.ifrs.org/issued-standards/ir-framework/

CONTENT ELEMENTS

An integrated report includes eight Content Elements that are fundamentally linked to each other and are not mutually exclusive:

- Organizational overview and external environment:
  What does the organization do and what are the circumstances under which it operates?
- Governance:
  How does the organization's governance structure support its ability to create value in the short medium and long term?
- Business model:
  What is the organization's business model?
- Risks and opportunities:
  What are the specific risks and opportunities that affect the organization's ability to create value over the short, medium and long term and how is the organization dealing with them?
- Strategy and resource allocation:
  Where does the organization want to go and how does it intend to get there?
- Performance:
  To what extent has the organization achieved its strategic objectives for the period and what are its outcomes in terms of effects on the capitals?
- Outlook:
  What challenges and uncertainties is the organization likely to encounter in pursuing its strategy, and what are the potential implications for its business model and future performance?
- Basis of presentation:
  How does the organization determine what matters to include in the integrated report and how are such matters quantified or evaluated?

THE SIX CAPITALS

FINANCIAL CAPITAL

Financial capital is broadly understood as the pool of funds available to an organization. This includes both debt and equity finance. This description of financial capital focuses on the source of funds, rather than its application which results in the acquisition of manufactured or other forms of capital.

MANUFACTURED CAPITAL

Manufactured capital is seen as human-created, production-oriented equipment and tools. A distinction is drawn between inventory (as a short term asset) and plant and equipment (tangible capital). Although the identification of these items is generally agreed, their accounting treatment, particularly in terms of valuation, depreciation and taxation is more contentious.

INTELLECTUAL CAPITAL

Intellectual capital is a key element in an organization's future earning potential, with a tight link and contingency between investment in R&D, innovation, human resources and external relationships, which can determine the organization's competitive advantage.

HUMAN CAPITAL

Is "generally understood to consist of the individual's capabilities, and the knowledge, skills and experience of the company's employees and managers, as they are relevant to the task at hand, as well as the capacity to add to this reservoir of knowledge, skills, and experience through individual learning".

SOCIAL CAPITAL AND RELATIONSHIP CAPITAL

Aspects of social and relationship capital in a business context relevant to <IR> include: the strength/ efficacy of supply chain relationships (e.g., establishing quality expectations, just-in-time delivery systems, and recycling programmes), community acceptance, government relations, relationships with competitors (e.g., coming together to develop industry standards), and customer loyalty. It is only by building relationships that an organization can retain its social license to operate.

NATURAL CAPITAL

There is a broad consensus in the literature that natural capital includes resources, such as timber, fish, water, minerals, etc., which can be used by humans to provide a return. In addition to these resources, there are a number of processes from which humans benefit that are provided by nature, which some sources define as "ecosystem services".
